In this play of children's and family dances, the toys and utensils left in the attics come to life, look for new opportunities and make their defects, virtues. The show is a song to diversity, solidarity and the spirit of overcoming.

With this show, Roberto G. Alonso proposes an initiatory, poetic and playful journey to enter the world of the fascinating painter of the 27th Generation, Maruja Mallo. Her varied work, full of surreal symbolism and disproportions, is the ideal vehicle to connect with children's imagination: what better way, then, than to transform it into movement to create a surprising and visual spectacle that awakens the creativity of children.

- In addition, Roberto G. Alonso will collaborate in the virtual Flipart program (<https://www.diba.cat/web/oda/flipart-virtual>) of Diputació de Barcelona which aims to encourage and bring the arts closer to young people. The choreographer and dancer will participate in the activity 'Adventures of artists', aimed at high schools and specifically will be, on February 8, at the INS Joan Mercader in Igualada.
